Elements of Fiction Review

1. Setting is the place, time, and environment of the story. What is the setting for this video?

2. Conflict is a struggle that a character experiences. This struggle can be internal (happening in the character's mind) or external (occurring between the character and another character or thing). In this video, what do you think the conflict is?

3. Characterization is how an author shows you what a character is like. Typically, a character's actions, thoughts, and feelings portray who they are. How would you describe the large bird? What about the group of little birds?

4. Plot has to do with the layout of a story. Stories have an exposition (setting up the story), rising action (events that build up to the climax), climax (turning point of the story), falling action (events that occur after the climax), and resolution (conclusion). What is the plot of the video? Fill in the boxes.

5. A theme is a reoccurring idea throughout the text. (Command + Why)

Name three topics from the video. Put a star next to the topic you think is most important.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

Write a command based off of the topic you put a star next to. Then add a reason to complete the theme. (Example: Be careful who you trust because you never know what others may be thinking.)

Theme: _____ because
